Courting Failure Eric A. Hanushek, 2006-11 The expert contributors to this volume assess recent court actions in school adequacy lawsuits and their impact on student outcomes. They show that simply throwing more resources at the problem has not brought about a solution and call for changes centered around accountability, incentives, and more informed parents and policymakers.

Personal Effects Deborah Holdstein, David Bleich, 2002 In Personal Effects, Holdstein and Bleich compile a volume that cuts across the grain of current orthodoxy. These editors and contributors argue that it is fundamental in humanistic scholarship to take account of the personal and collective experiences of scholars, researchers, critics, and teachers. With this volume, then, these scholars move us to explore the intersections of the social with subjectivity, with voice, ideology, and culture, and to consider the roles of these in the work of academics who study writing and literature. Taken together, the essays in this collection carry forward the idea that the personal, the candidly subjective and intersubjective, must be part of the subject of study in humanities scholarship. They propose an understanding of the personal in scholarship that is more helpful because more clearly anchored in human experience.

Helping Children Left Behind John Yinger, 2004 An overview and five case studies of school finance reform; a resource for scholars, public officials, and others interested in education finance reform.

The Adventures of a Three Guinea Watch Talbot Baines Reed, 1896 Recounts the progress of a fob watch from school to college, from England to India, where as a possession of an officer in Her Majesty's Army it takes part in the troubles at Lucknow.

Clinton in Haiti P. Girard, 2004-12-09 The book focuses on Aristide's political career, emphasizing his strategizing, compromising and dealing with the Clinton administration. In his presentation of the conflict, Girard carefully balances Aristide's and Clinton's needs, and the demands and moral positions the leaders make against each other - the result is that each leader and his constituency comes to life, and their maneuverings and decisions become engaging and meaningful. While Girard focuses on the conflict itself and the foreign policy dynamics at play between Haiti and the US, he also paints a compelling picture of contemporary Haiti and delineates with great clarity the tensions which led to recent violence and the deposition of Aristide.

With All Their Worldly Possessions Glendon O'connor, 2017-06-25 A story connecting the Rees, Deslandes, Jardine and Nelson families and their emigration to Australia in the 1850s. It includes information on the families of George Rees, Susannah Deslandes, William Hussey, Peter Skulander, Peter Olsen, Kezia Deslandes, Herbert Frost, Albert Buglar, Janet Nelson, Joseph Hely, George Peek, Leslie Forrester, Allan Albert, Harrie Sykes, Harry Murray, Thomas Robson, William Rhind, William Gillies, Herbert Gosnell, Elizabeth Meredith, Ann Hewitt, Thomas Folster, Charles McIntyre, George Barnes, Benjamin Logan, William Bruce, Stewart Currie, Frederick Farquharson, Jessie Smith, David Olsen, Jacob Johnson, John Bishop, Neville Higgins.

School Accountability Williamson M. Evers, Herbert J. Walberg, 2002 Scholars from history, economics, political science, and psychology describe the present state of school accountability, how it evolved, how it succeeded and failed, and how it can be improved. They review the history behind the ongoing conflict between educators and policymakers over accountability and testing, describe various accountability schemes, and analyze the costs of accountability. Case studies of three states with strong school systems compare how accountability works in practice. Evers is a research fellow at the Hoover Institution. Earning and Learning Susan E. Mayer, Paul E. Peterson, 2010-12-01 A Brookings Institution Press and Russell Sage Foundation publication Education is one of the largest sectors of the U.S. economy--yet scholars, educators, policymakers, and parents do not agree about what the money spent on education really buys. In particular, they do not agree on how much education improves children's ability to learn or whether the things children learn in school truly improve their chances for success as adults. If schooling increases how much students know and what they know does pay off later, then it is important to ask what schools can do to increase students' learning and earning. The essays in this book report estimates of the effects of learning on earnings and other life outcomes. They also examine whether particular aspects of schooling--such as the age at which children begin school, classroom size, and curriculum--or structural reform--such as national or statewide examinations or school choice--affect learning. Taken together, their findings suggest that liberals are correct in saying that more investment is needed in early education, that class sizes should be further reduced, and that challenging national or state standards should be established. But they also provide support for conservatives who ask for a more demanding curriculum and greater school choice. Contributors include John Bishop, Eric Hanushek, James Heckman, Christopher Jencks, Caroline Minter Hoxby, Fred Mosteller, and Christopher Winship.

Byrd and Chen's Canadian Tax Principles, 2010-2011 Edition Clarence Byrd, Ida Chen, 2010-08-31 Written in an accessible style, this text assumes that the student has no previous education in taxation. Byrd & Chen's Canadian Tax Principles, 2010-2011 Edition, can be used with or without other source materials (this includes the Income Tax Act, Information Circulars, Interpretation Bulletins, and other official materials). The Income Tax Act is referenced in the text where appropriate for further independent study. Students should be able to solve all of the end-of-chapter problems by relying solely on the text as a reference. The text and problem materials are comprehensive of the syllabus requirements of the CGAs, CAs, and CMAs. For your convenience, the text material is now presented in two separate volumes.

Federalism David L. Shapiro, 1995-07-19 David Shapiro explores the virtues and defects of federalism as it has developed in this country from a variety of perspectives that include historical, constitutional, economic, social, and political considerations. Using the dialectical form adopted by advocates trying a case before a court, Shapiro not only examines the strongest arguments on the two principal sides of the issue but also probes the potential value of the dialectical process itself.

The Heart Knows No Colour Praba Moodley, 2003 The story is set in Natal at the turn of the 20th century, when Sita and her family arrive from India to build a new life in South Africa, not suspecting what lies in store for them. Working as indentured labourers on a sugar-cane plantation, life is hard u but for Sita, it is also filled with the joys of growing up, first love and the dawning of passion. Defying tradition, the young girl becomes enmeshed in a forbidden love affair with Albert, the English brother-in-law of the estate owner. Unwillingly at first, Sita is forced into a marriage of her parents' choosing u but her secret passion never dies Years later, when she has settled into marriage and motherhood, Albert returns, and Sita must grapple with her feelings again. The Heart Has No Colour also delves into the criminal underworld of turn-of-the-century Durban. Entwined in Sita's story is the tale of Gopi, her older brother, who comes to ruin in the seedy gambling dens of the big city. Sita's large, loving, emotional family is portrayed in intimate detail. when Geeta and Sita's children grow to adulthood, and each in their own way reaps the conse

The Education Gap William G. Howell, Paul E. Peterson, 2006-02-14 The voucher debate has been both intense and ideologically polarizing, in good part because so little is known about how voucher programs operate in practice. In The Education Gap, William Howell and Paul Peterson report new findings drawn from the most comprehensive study on vouchers conducted to date. Added to the paperback edition of this groundbreaking volume are the authors' insights into the latest school choice developments in American education, including new voucher initiatives, charter school expansion, and public-school choice under No Child Left Behind. The authors review the significance of state and federal court decisions as well as recent scholarly debates over choice impacts on student performance. In addition, the authors present new findings on which parents choose private schools and the consequences the decision has for their children's education. Updated and expanded, The Education Gap remains an indispensable source of original research on school vouchers. This is the most important book ever written on the subject of vouchers.—John E. Brandl, dean, Hubert H. Humphrey Institute of Public Affairs, University of Minnesota The Education Gap will provide an important intellectual battleground for the debate over vouchers for years to come.—Alan B. Krueger, Princeton University Must reading for anyone interested in the battle over vouchers in America.—John Witte, University of Wisconsin

The Naked Farmer Ben Brooksby, 2020-10-27 Ben Brooksby is a fifth-generation farmer from St Helens Plains in western Victoria. When he was younger, he struggled with anxiety and other mental health issues, as do so many others in rural communities. A simple social media post helped him to turn things around. After he shared a photo on Instagram showing himself naked in a truck full of lentils, he received a huge response, with other farmers wanting to share their own photos - and their stories. As the Naked Farmer movement grew, Ben met people from all around the country who wanted to get naked for mental health. As they got their kits off, they also opened up about their struggles. This is a heartwarming, moving and candid collection of stories of the challenges our farmers are facing, and the way these communities are banding together in response. Proudly supporting the Royal Flying Doctors Mental Health Service

What Your Kindergartner Needs to Know (Revised and updated) E.D. Hirsch, Jr., John Holdren, 2013-07-16 With its comprehensive curriculum providing a sound basis in the fundamentals of math, art, history, language arts, science, and technology, the phenomenally successful Core Knowledge series has become an esteemed tool for parents and teachers striving to better educate today's children. And since it is agreed that the first years of schooling are crucial to a child's lifetime educational achievements, it is no wonder that parents and teachers alike have been asking for a volume for kindergartners. This primer for those just beginning their school careers was devised with the contributions of over 2,000 parents, educators and students, distilled into a user-friendly volume specifically designed for parents to use with their children. Eighty pages of four-color illustrations enliven the new, bold design of this latest title in a series adopted by hundreds of schools nationwide and appreciated by thousands of adults looking to instill in children a lifetime love of learning.
